

U.K.A.T. Rules

SAFETY RULES

No tools other than throwing knives and axes are allowed in the camp.

Knives and throwing axes are sports equipment whose improper use can generate dangerous situations.

It is therefore with particular rigor that the following rules must be observed:

- It is strictly forbidden, both in training and in competition, the use of sharp knives.
- All instruments must always be thrown to the targets or the ground. Pointing in other directions, even for fun, is strictly prohibited.
- Unless otherwise specified, the knives must be retrieved by all throwers at the same time. Whoever is going to retrieve the tools must make sure that the others in the throwing line are not completing their series of throws, in which case they will have to wait. Any missing knives can be recovered as long as there is no excessive delay.

Helping to search for knives lost by others is a duty of all competitors.

- The use of closed shoes is mandatory, sandals or similar are absolutely prohibited.
- It is strictly forbidden to run with knives and axes in hand.
- At the time of registration, each competitor must sign a declaration certifying that he/she has read and accepts these regulations.

TIDINESS AND CLEANLINESS

- The care and cleanliness of the competition field are entrusted to everyone's civic sense and good manners. Each person has the obligation to take their own waste produced.
- All participants are required to treat the equipment and facilities present in the competition field with care.
- All participants are required to report any equipment failure or violation of these regulations to the Manager.

BEHAVIOR AND CLOTHING

Each competitor is required to observe appropriate behavior within the competition field. Any act of disturbance will result in the removal of the person concerned from the field. Damage caused to the organization's material or that of other competitors, due to negligence or carelessness, must be compensated to the injured parties.

During the stay on the competition field, the competitor must comply with the following rules:

- Maintain correct physical and verbal behavior.
- Wear sportswear suitable for the performance of the activity and the decorum of the place.
- Have the utmost respect for safety regulations and equipment.
- Be responsible for any damage caused by him or his guests to the facilities and equipment.
- Hand over throwing materials or other objects found in the launch field to the person in charge.

Marking personal belongings with writings, colors, signs or symbols will facilitate the return to the rightful owner.

- Smoking should respect the rules of common sense so as not to create situations of annoyance or danger.
- Remember that knives and axes are potentially very dangerous tools if used in a state of mental alteration. Inappropriate behavior on the throwing lines will result in immediate expulsion from the competition without the need for recalls. Moderate alcohol consumption is therefore permitted. Please also note that the insurance will not compensate the injured person if it turns out that the person who caused the accident had used alcohol or drugs. Those who violate this prohibition will assume all the consequent costs in the event of any accidents, exempting the organization from any liability.

The use of drugs prohibited by law is strictly forbidden both within the competition field and within the host property.
